CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 238 pages. Dimensions: 8.0in. x 5.0in. x 0.5in. This touching tale tells of a calf born in a pedigree Aberdeen Angus herd, an unusual calf that although is black in colour, is the wrong kind of black. Her times of hardship and degradation evolve her into a somewhat exceptional character. Now an old lady nearing the end of her life she tells her own extraordinary and comical tale of her exciting journey towards fulfilling her destiny. Her story begins with her growing up on a Highland farm run by Donald, a simple but likeable Scottish peasant farmer, complete with his colloquial accent and ancient ways. She is born to a Princess Erica mother and great things are expected of this first calf but it is soon apparent that something is wrong. When she discovers that her father is a foreigner, a glamorous French Limousin bull from a neighbouring field, she realises that although the same colour she is a little different to her brothers and sisters. Her time then progresses into a period of bullying and racism which mars the early part of her life, a time when her fears and emotions are disclosed in vivid detail. When one day she is singled out by the herd owner for special treatment, the Princess sums up her inner strength to convince herself that she is the chosen one and is destined for greater things. As she grows into a young maiden she gets help and jealousy from her female friends in equal proportions, all of which only reinforces her confidence. The Princess gets into trouble when she gets a chance to compete at the Royal Highland Show with her mother in mid summer and also gets to...
